A francas which occurred yesterday between Edmundson, of Virginia, and Hickman, of Pennsylvania, in the town talk of to-day. It appears that as Hickman was walking through the grounds leading from the Capthol to Pennsylvania ayente, after the adjournment of the House, he met Mr. Keitt, of South Carolina, Mr. Bouligny, of Louisians, and Edmundson, in company, the latter of whom accosted him, saving, "You made a speech at Willard a Moterit the other night when Speaker Pennington was serenaded, in which you insuited my State." Hickman replied, "I did make a speech on that occasion," when Edmundson struck h.m., knocking his last off. Vice-President Breckinridge, who was near at hand, with Mr. Keitt, Interfered, and prevented the matter from going further.

It is said that Hickman was armed, and the Republicans express much disastisfaction that he did not shoot his assailant. He has been so bitter in his denunciation of the South, and so withering in his ridicule of Southern Chivalry, that great things are expected of him if he ever comes into conflict with any Southern Representative. It is said however, that Hickman would have defended himself if he had not been seized and held by one of the gentlemen who interferperfectly acquainted with his fellow members when he was elevated to the Chair. A vicious practice, which has obtained in the Senate, is being adopted in the House—that is, Senate, is being adopted in the House—that is, to constitute committees according to the army rule of promotion—by seniority of commission, instead of by fitness for a particular place. Under this rule those Republicans who served under Speaker Banks, with some exceptions, have been appointed to the best places, and they have been assigned to committees with reference to where they previously stood, and not with regard to the wholesome rule of the reference to where they previously stood, and not with regard to the wholesome rule of the right man for the right place. For instance: Benjamin Stanton, of Ohio, is promoted to the head of the Committee on Military Affairs, over the head of Col. Curties of lows. The one is thoroughly versed in the subjects that will come before the committee, is an accomplished military officer, who has seen service; while the other would feel at home in amarshaling the quirks and quiddities of the law in a piece of apecial pleading, but is as ignorant of the science of National defense as he is of the Churese vernacular. This incongruous Chairmanship must be put to the credit of "routine and red tape." But no appointment caused so much must be put to the credit of routine and red tape." But no appointment caused so much displeasure in Republican circles as that of "dirty-wark" Logan to the Chairmanahip of "Unfinished Business." It is true the Com-mittee is of no consequence, but the idea of putmittee is of no consequence, out the tues of put ag kim at the head of any Committee, is regarded, by western Republicans as hittle less than an insult la, them. There was not even the plea of any service in Congress to excuse it. It is understoad that the Republican member on that Committee will refuse to serve on it. And what makes this appointment the more atrance, is the nloss easinged to your repnore strange, is the place assigned to your representative, Mr. Farnsworth, who was put number fourth on Indian Affairs. The Committee is respectable enough, but his constituents have no manner of interest in the matters that come before that Committee for consideration. Mr. Farnsworth's constituents are commercial and agricultural people. He represents more commerce in the city of Chicago than all the lake members from Buffalo to Milwaukee. Politically, his district has done more for the Republican cause than any other, and with one exception, it rolls up a larger majority one exception, it rolls up a larger majority than any other Republican District in the United States. On the score of capacity or merit, few members, on our side, have superior claims for favorable recognition. But the seeming slight, I presume, is resily attributable to oversight and accident, and not at all intentional it is a difficult matter for a Speaker to apportion out thirty-seven committees among two hundred and thirty-odd members, which hardly gives one place apiece, and do justice or give satisfaction to all, especially when the task has to be performed by a new member, who is personally but very slightly acquainted with a large majority of the honorable gentlemen overwhom he is called to preside. Under all the circumstances, he has constituted his committees as well as could reasonably be expected. Some of the selections might, undoubtedly, have been improved; but in the main, they are judicious and unexceptionable.

The Postofice deficiency bill has not yet become a law. It passed the House nearly unanimously, as it was reported by Mr. Phelips. When it reached the Senste it was loaded down with amendments in the nature of new or extraneous matter. Various ideas connected with postal reform schemes, were hitched on to it. Among the rest the following, which was offered by Senster Toombs:

"That, from and after the light day of Avril next, the naking privilers be and the challed the thereby totalir abolitic and that all have and parts of laws and until of the cost of any data all have and parts of laws and until order to cost of a contact of the cost of t then read a third time and passed. When it reached the House festerday, it was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, which will report it back this afternoon, stripped of all its Senate amendments, and in that shape it will probably pass the House for the second time. Many members in favor of abolishing or modifying the franking privilege will rete ugainst attaching that proposition to the Deficiency bill. They want the subject of postal reform to be introduced as an independent measure, which should embrace many other things besides the matter of franking.

The amenument offered by Toombs is exceedingly sweeping, and if adopted would do more harm than good. It would require post masters to pay postage on their official communications. Every letter of instructions sent out by the Post Master General to his subordinates or received from them by him would have to be the Post Master General to his subordinates or received from them by him would have to be prepaid, which in practice would be the same as if the Directors of a Railroad Company should make a conductor, engineer and brakeman pay fare for riding on the train they ran coblige a Superintendent to buy a ticket as often as he desired to inspect the track.

Many thousand postmasters are recompensed by given

Many thousand postmasters are recompensed by giving them a certain per cent of the receipts their offices, yield. These are the little offices, paying from five dollars salary up to one hundred per year. As the compensation, of itself, is manifestly is adequate to requite the other and time consumed in taking care of the office, Congress conferred upon such postmasters the privilege of franking their own correspondence. This privilege is the chief consideration that induces several thousands of country postmasters to hold them, and if Toombs' proposition prevails, they will resign, unless Congress increases their pay. How much will the Treasury gain by this operation? Ever since the establishment of the government publishers of newappers have had, the right to exchange with each other free of postage. This privilege was granted to them upon grounds of sund public policy, in an educational point of view. Toombs' amendment would be a severe blow to the whole country press, as it would collige them to choose between paying a bill for post-their sources of procuring and spin against the people.

The main object, however, had in view by the Democrats who voted for the abolition of the franking privilege, was to cut off the circulation of Republican speeches and documents during the impending campaign. Nearly all the districts in the Free States are represented by Republicans in Congress, and four-fifths of the

If the book-printing abuse were reformed, as is proposed to be done, the abolition of franked letters would not save a dime in the transportation of the mails, or add a copper to the revenue of the Federal Treasury.

The Election of a House printer has proven more difficult to accomplish the savel the other department offices. It required two cancuses and seven ballogs to agree on a canditate, when Mr. Defrees of the Indianapolis Atlas, was nominated by one mejority. The beaten combination now threaten to bolt the cancuss nominee, and defeath im. The right way to dispose of this whole versitious prighting business, would be to let it out by open contract to the lowest responsible bidder. This plan has been fried in Ohio, Illineis and other States, and has been found to work unfinately better than the method of electing a partizing printer. Wity should it not be becought to the standard of correct business principles? This public printing has long been looked upon as a lucrative source

When finished it will be one of the finest buildings of the kind in the country, and an honor to the liberality and philanthropy of the State.

After passing the stations of Libertyville and Ashland we arrive at Agency City.

Just as we approach the last named place, on the left is to be seen a beantiful grove, in which is to be found the bouse occupied by the U. Near the house, in an enclosure, are the graves of General Street, several members of his family, and that of Wappello, the last of the Sea and Fox chiefs that lived in lown.—The spot was a favorite one with him, and well do we recall the emotions that crowded upon us when we first visited this spot, and stood gazing upon the monument exceted as a tribute of respect to his nemory by his tribe, on a summor eve four years ago. But few years had elapsed and he upon whom our thoughts were then centered, roamed in his native grandeur, "Lord of all he surveyed." Ere he had finished his career, the fine lands, those beautiful groves, the temples of nature in which he had been wont to worship the "Great Spirit," had been wrested from him and his tribe by maniest destiny or Anglo Saxon rapacity. After all was gone, his last request was to be buried with his fathers, a boom which could not be denied him. Pligrimages are made annually to this place by many of the scattered remnants of his tribe.

After leaving Agency City the road descends, and after a ride of six miles we arrived at Ottuwa at 11 z. M.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]
Sr. Fava, Minn., Wednesday, Feb. 8, 1860.
Things wag on slowly. Already seven weeks f the Session have passed away, and no man esces the end. The interest waxes as the time asses, and business seems to accumulate ather than decrease. Both Houses work from early in the morning until dark, but make small headway, and the country presses of ooth parties are beginning to complain. Yet I do not see how the Session can possibly close before March 1, if within two weeks afterwards, really. The Railroad Committee has sent in about half a dozen majority and minority reports, with as many plans for the settlement of our Railroad difficulties. It only farther embarcates, and thus the work of adjusting the complication is prolonged. I shall endeavor to give a synopsis of the favorite plan in my next, as the House will take up one or other of the reports and bills next Monday, probably.

What a Pandora's Box full of evils the Railrond grant has been to us! Legislatures have been corrupted, the Press subsidised, and a quasek currency, with the final "busting" up of the whole scheme, entailed on us. A special committee of the two Houses are now investigating the acts of the Summer assisting of 1857, which distributed the Land Grants, and the doings of the last sessions, which passed the same act, as it is supposed that bribery and corruption secured the passage of both these acts. Ever since the Grant was made to Minescota, a gang of railroad speculators, familiarly known ates, and thus the work of adjusting the comtion accured the passage of both these acts. Ever since the Grant was made to Minnesota, a gang of railroad speculators, familiarly known as the "forty thieves" of Wiscousin, have been prowing around our Legislative Halls and Coarts, and it is to such influences as they brought to bear that we are now inclosed in such toils. They are still lying in wait, and using all their influence to have even the adjusted, done to their advantage and gain.

Since the difficulties, if they can be adjusted, done to their advantage and gain.

Since the committees have been at work on them, and the report of the plurality of the joint Committee was appointed by the House to inquire whether the railroad gamblers aforesaid had any connection with them. This shows how suspicious we have become from past experience. which will processly process or alx weeks yet.

The House yesterday passed a Registry law, requiring the registration of all voters prior to general elections.

requiring the registration of all toles passes to general elections.

A bill organizing and regulating the State University, at St. Authony, has passed both branches.

The new Apportionment bill, reducing our Legislatore to one-half its present size, saving fifteen to twenty-five thousand dollars every year, has passed both branches.

The bill creatingle Statistical Bureau has also passed both Houses, and has become a law.

A neary law, limiting the rate of interest to seven per cent, has passed the Senate, while simultaneously, the House passed a bill exactly similar; so we will probably have a naary law, though both are and to be very weak, as they presented almost no penalties for assury.

It was expected that the present sension would pass relief laws for the sid of that class of our people who are struggling under debt—and they are a great proportion of our population—in the shape of stay, or extension laws. A bill has consequently passed the House, extending the time of redemption on property sold under execution or mottage to the cod of theyer, as steep per cent, the mortgage or judgment debtor to releas possession of the property. Hitherto the time has been one year, with interest, payable annually, at fite one of theyers, as steep erecent, the mortgage or judgment debtor to releas possession of the property. Hitherto the time has been one year, with interest, if the mortgage occupied the property. Hitherto the time has been one year, with interest, if the mortgage occupied the interest is the season that was designed as relief for a large class of our citizens, who had given mortgages on their farms for a small amount of money, borrowed, perhaps, to pay for their claims at the land sales, and who would, without such relief, loss all. Every case of this kind, and I am told there are hundreds happening here, is a powerful spead to Congress to passe the Homesteed Law, and put the poor actile beyond the reach of the usurer and speculator. If that law is passed the Hones appropriating $1,000 for the distrib

With the most persevering efforts, partial order was soon secured, sufficient to enable the remonstrances of the presiding differ to be beard, when the doors were opened and the assembly permitted to quietly disparse. It was not until a large proportion of the audience had retired, that the result of the accident was fully accertained, when it was found that four persons were badly injured. They were removed at once to the neighboring residences, and medical aid summoned. The following are the wounded:

John Chase, a boy about fourteen years of age, son of Mr. J. M. Chase, the former Treasurer of the University; akull badly fractured; no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

John Allen, another boy; some cuts and contraced wounds on the head; severely but not tained, are reported to have been slightly injured.

This affair has naturally produced a great sensation in our city. The Union Hall is the only place, saide from our churches, at all adapted to accommodate large gatherings. Since its erection, three years succe, it has been used for commencement exercises, exhibitions, public lectures, concerts, and all similar purposes. It has frequently had within it an equally large audience with that assembled there has the hit, and why the floors should then settle is a mystery, no indications of weakness having even before minifested themselves. The hall occupies the whole of the third story, and is supported beneath by a number of partitions running both lengthwise and crosswise of the building. An examination into the matter will probably be had at once, and, if any fault should be found to exist in the construction of the building, the proper persons will be centrally in the plan is saidly defective in its provision for ingress and egress, which are effected only by two stairways, narrow and crooked, both situated in the centre of the building. Who Has the Key of the Bastile.
A French journal announces that the wide of M. Sanierre, who distinguished humself white Bastile was taken, is now after in Par Moreover that she possesses the key of that everable prison fortreas. This will be news, tas country, where the veritable key, there every reason to believe, has long been sort ional heir-doom, having been presented washington by Lafayette. The widow Saterre may have relained one of the Bastile key but the key of the principal portal was indout edity sent to this country, where it, may be see hanging up in one of the reoms of Mount Venon. Novembe flast, between $200,000 and $250,000 counterfeit notes of $50 and $100, on the B of Philadelphia, were successfully put into culation in the States of Illinois, Ohio, Indi Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Loumana an Missouri, being exchanged for genuine morey mostly Straouri carrency. This is the larges and mess successful villany of the kind on record, and it must have been concected and consummated by quite a number of persons. Only one of them, named Bacorde, has yet been de tacted, and he is on trial at St. Louis, where of forts are making for the detection of others of

The Prince of Grange was on a visit to Queen Victoria at Wildser Castle.

The London Times in an editorial, explains the present position of the San Juan difficulty, it says: We have reason to think that the proposals made to the Americans are such as may fairly satisfy fibith countries. Instead of standing out for the Rosaro Channel and the whole group of Islanda, as against the Debaro Chasnel and none of them, a third channel is proposed for the boundary line, which will not only evade the two disputed courses, but will leave the Americans in possession of the largest share of the disputed territory. This channel in its course cuts off the Island of San Juan alone to the west, and consequently leaves us with this Island only, while the Americans will retain the remainder. So considerable, in fact, is the concession thus made, that it reasonably suggests a little compensation, and we believe the American Government will be asked to give Mr. Pagh was entirely opposed to the system of instructing committees, and taking from them all discretion. If the act of Congress had been violated, he would vote against the admission of Kansas; but if it were e rroctly ascertained that she had the requisite population, he would not stickle about forms. It was necessary that the fact should be ascertained by the Federal census. Congress had voted no means to take the census, and the State had to take the census herself.

Mr. Bayard said the resolution was not in the form of an instruction, but merely looked to the making of a certain inquiry.

Mr. Doolittle moved to unend the resolution, by instructing the committee to report a buil for the immediate admission of Kansas under the Wyundotte Constitution. Vyandotte Constitution. Mr. Pugh still said he would vote against all astructions, but he could vote for Mr. Brown's Columbia.

By general consent, however, potitions and reports were received.

Mr. Harlan presented a petition in favor of repealing the Fugitive Slave Law.

Mr. Gwin introduced a resolution instructing the committee on Military Affairst to inquire into do hope this reasonable proposal will be accepted.

The riotous proceedings at the Church of St. George's in East London, reached a most discreaceful height on Sunday. The church was crammed with a noisy mob, who not only presented the services from being performed, but endeavored to demolish the altar, and indulged in the pastime of throwing about cushions, prayer books, etc. The officials of the Church were treated with personal violence, and considerable property was destroyed. The matter had claimed the attention of both Houses of Parliament, and the Government had promised measures to put a stop to the disgraceful proceedings. Mr. Gwin introduced a resolution instructing the committee on Military Affairs to inquire into the expediency of making provision for the payment of the Indian war debt of California. Adopted.

Mr. Haven introduced a bill for the construction of a railroad from the Missussippi river to the eastern boundary of California.

Mr. Fitspatrick introduced a bill to provide for the examination of claims of citizens of Georgia and Alabama for losses sustained in the Creek war of 1820. Referred.

Mr. Brown's resolutions were called up.

Mr. Hale apple at length on the slavery question and in defence of New Hampshire.

Mr. Doolittle said he would answer the arguments of the Senator from Georgia at a future day, and the senator from Georgia at a future of the Senator from Georgia at a future of the Senator from Georgia at a future day, applied was rectaced till Transfer From measures to put a stop to the disgraceful proceedings.

France.—The Paris Universe is suppressed. The Monitour, in publishing the decree of suppression, says, among the reasons for the measure is the irritating controversy of the journal, by which religious opinion was disquieted, the country agitated, and the fundamental basis on which the relations between the church and civil society are established undermined.

It is stated that the immediate offence which led to the suppression of the Universe was the publication, on the 29th, of a letter of the Pope to the Archbishop and Bishops, in which he states the motives of his refusal to accept the advice of the Emperor and give up the Romagna.

lic printing in connection with the Executive business are necessary to be made, with power to report at any time.

Mr. Burnett understood these subjects were considered by a special committee last session. Did they ever make a report?

Mr. Grow said that the committee was the same as the one new ordered. It made the investigation, but was not authorized to report at any time, and the call for their report was never reached. If it had been, they were prepared to report a bill on the subject. Allow this committee to report at any time.

Mr. Buruett—I am agreed to that.

The speaker announced the pending business to be the election of a Printer.

On motion of Mr. Phelps, there was a call of the Bouse I Mr. Anderson, of No., moved that the Honse receive itself into Committee of the Whole on quietness and moderation when are required by the interests of the public peace and respect for religion.

A medal was about to be struck at the Paris mint to commemorate the signing of the treaty of commerce between England and France.

Orders were received at Tquion to propare the plated frigate Gloger for sea with the utmost dispatch. She exerties 36 rifled guns and asteel prow of concross dimensions. Her destination was unknown.

The Paris fournals publish a dispatch from Chambery which states than on the 29th the party hostile to the accession of Savoy to France made a demonstration. Nearly 250 persons assembled from all parts of Savoy, at the request of the residents of Chambery and asked information from the government as to whether it was the intention of the King of Sardinia to cede the province to France. The Governor replied that the King would not willingly surrender the Province. The statement was received with loud cries of "Visel Reis."

The population of Chambery were complete strangers to the demonstration which took place in the street, and it was inferred that their realizes was, consequently, argumathetic with Mr. Anderson, of Wo., moved that the House recoolve itself into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, and take up the Post Office Appropriation bill. Estimating the damages at six per cent. on the som due the contractors, the amount is one thousand dol-lars a day, and these contractors are being ruined. ruined.

Mr. Washburns thought the House had better have one more vote for Printer, and if the question was not then determined, they could then take up the Post Office Appropriation bid.

Mr. Anderson's motion was disagreed to by The Paris Flour market had dedelined 1@ Mr. Morris, of Ill., said the Democrats were willing to take a vote for Printer to-morrow, and not before.

The motion to adjourn, being supported by only 28 votes, was negatived.

Mr. Barkedie proposed that by general con-sent the subject be passed over till to-morrow at one o'clock.

Mr. Sherman would not object, if this was the general understanding.

ACTRIA.—It was considered not unlikely that a state of seige would be proclaimed in Hungery, as well as Venetia. In the course of our day seven officers were attacked and wounded in Verona, and the cavalry were ordered te clear the sirects.

Attempts were made to hoist the tri-colored lag at Chioggia, Portesce, and Palestriana. Sumerous individuals had been arrested at Venice for insulting persons promending while military music was being performed. The authorities of Venice bad been made acquainted with the determination of Austria to retain that place and defend it to the utmost.

The India and China mails from Calcutta Dec. 22d and Hong Kong Dec. 15th have been delivered.

The Post Office Appropriation Bill was taken

np. The Senate amendment abolishing the franking privilege was rejected. The Committee rose and reported the bill to the House. The Senate's amendment directing the Post Office Department to have blanks of contract printed was agreed to by 150 against 21. The Senate's amendment abolishing the franking privilege was rejected—60 against 112. The other amendments of the Senate were concurred in. The death of Nena Sahib was regarded as almost certain. He is said to have died of fever, and that his chief adviser in the Cawapore massacre survived him only a few days.

The Hong Kong correspondent of the Times says the only point of any importance was the intended establishment at Swatow of British and American Cousuls—the latter under the new American reaty, and the former claiming the most favored clause under the old supplementary treaty.
